Enjoy Explore India Receives Financial Aid Grant

We are pleased to announce that Enjoy Explore India will be providing need-based financial aid to enable economically disadvantaged youth to take part in the EEI program. Narendra Bhandari believes that children are the future, and in that spirit he has graciously offered his support.

Impressed by EEI's cultural education program and the entrepreneurial efforts of EEI founder Seema Moondra, Mr. Bhandari decided to fund this scholarship. We thank Mr. Bhandari, a North Brunswick resident who teaches entrepreneurship and business at New York University, for his generosity and his support.

EEI is working with Mr. Bhandari to set up the scholarship program, and the financial aid will become available in October 2010.

EEI Summer Exploratorium's 2nd Open House

EEI Summer Exploratorium begins June 21

Hurry! Registration closes 5 business days before the start date of each workshop week

The EEI Open House was a busy event as parents and teachers discussed the program and counselors helped kids draw and decorate butterflies.

The room was decked out to reflect the workshop, and many projects were on display to give parents a visual feeling for all the wonderful things they could expect their kids to do and make in the program this summer.

Please call us at 732-645-2274 if you missed the event and would like to know more. EEI's staff will be happy to answer your questions.

*"When I was a child
I always loved making arts and crafts and learning about Indian culture, and I want to make sure these kids have that experience too."

Children's IDs Offered by New York Life

New York Life Insurance Company will be providing ID cards to all Enjoy Explore India participants. Dolly C. Colvin (on left), Agent, New York Life, visited our Open House and explained this community-service project. A representative of New York Life will be at EEI every Tuesday and will provide all registered workshop members with a FREE children's ID. These IDs are an important way to help keep your children safe in case they get lost or hurt and are unable to convey vital information to assist someone in helping ..
